Want Demands Enforced

The convention appears to be firm in its determination of insisting that mally organized, President Mitchell of the Mine Workers' Union presiding. Committees were appointed and then a recess was taken until this afternoon. The talk about the streets is very meagre as to the possible outcome, except that the men appear to be very determined.

Seems Certain

From expressions of the delegates in convention the strike in the anthracite region seems inevitable.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lexington, Ky., May 3.—There was an increased attendance when the conference on Southern Education began its business sessions in the Auditorium this morning. Later in the afternoon all assembled for a reception at the Woman's Club. This evening a public session is to be held at which the prominent speakers to be heard include Dr. W. M. Barbe of the University of West Virginia, President Brown Arnes of the University of Tennessee, President E. A. Alderman of the University of Virginia, and Dr. Charles D. Molver of Greensboro, N. C.

LARGEST OF FRENCH STEAMSHIPS SAILS

Initial Trip Of La Provence From New York To Havre Started Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, May 3.—La Provence, the newest and largest of the French line steamers, sailed today on her initial trip from New York to Havre. As the big steamer left her pier in the North River and steamed slowly down the bay she was saluted with cheers by thousands of enthusiastic citizens and by whistles from every craft on the river.

La Provence is the largest steamship carrying the French flag and ranks among the largest ever built. She has 18,000 tons displacement and 30,000 horse-power, and, being run in connection with a special train from Havre to Paris, will make the distance between New York and Paris less than six days. On her initial trip to New York she made a speed which easily placed her in the greyhound class.

Tonight, in the Auditorium, the entire board of bishops will occupy the platform at a big rally, the object of which is to stir the 30,000 Methodists of Chicago for a sweeping evangelistic movement.

They are the delegates, and visitors to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which will be in session in this city during the next two weeks or longer. Among the delegates and others interested in the conference the chief topic of discussion is the coming election of bishops. Though it is highly probable that not more than two new bishops will be chosen, no fewer than a dozen candidates are being discussed for the honors. Among those whose names are heard most frequently in connection with the Episcopacy are Rev. J. C. Kilgo, D. D., of the North Carolina conference; Rev. W. B. Murrah, D. D., of the North Mississippi conference; Rev. Collins Denny, of the Baltimore conference; Rev. W. L. Neims of Texas, and Rev. Seth Ward, D. D., also of Texas.

The meeting here will last over Friday and Saturday, and the arrangements for the entertainment of the "drummers" are most elaborate. The social program opens tonight with a reception for the visitors at the Rice Hotel. The business sessions begin tomorrow morning and in the evening the annual convention banquet will be held. An effort will be made to conclude all business in time for the delegates to go on an excursion down the Houston ship channel Saturday.

Albany, Ga., May 3.—The annual state convention of the Travelers' Protective association, which began a two days' session in this city today, was made the occasion of a great demonstration. Many visitors were present in addition to the regular delegates. Atlanta, Macon, Savannah, Augusta, Columbus and other leading cities of Georgia are well represented. The knights of the grip were royally welcomed to Albany. Public buildings and business houses are decorated in their honor. A number of important matters are to be considered and acted upon by the convention, among them the question of the location of the state headquarters of the organization. The annual reports of President Harry Calhoun and other officers show the past year to have been one of gratifying progress for the association in Georgia.

Washington, May 3.—A special message was sent to congress today by President Roosevelt, in which he explains the attitude of this government regarding the offer of contribution to the San Francisco sufferers from foreign countries. The President says that where the contributions were made to this government he did not feel warranted in accepting them, but where they were made to citizens' relief committee at San Francisco no official action was or could be taken in regard to them. The message indicates that the entire civilized world promptly responded in messages of sympathy and offers of contributions. The President recommends that congress pass appropriate resolutions expressing the gratitude of the nation to these friends.

Civil Service Law Is To Be Severely Tested By The Action Of The Courts.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 3.—The attack upon the new Wisconsin civil service law has assumed a seriousness that is alarming the friends of the merit system in this state. Commissioner of Banking Bergh, under cover of resisting the application of the law to his department, has raised four questions of constitutionality, any one of which if upheld by the supreme court, before which the litigation is pending, will knock out the law and set aside all that has been accomplished under it. The complainant alleges that the law interferes with the constitutional duties of the secretary of state as auditor, because it requires the commission to certify to the state payroll and places a penalty upon the secretary of state if he audits a bill for services unless the voucher is first approved by the civil service commission. The commission will answer and say that this is merely a certification that the person is on the payroll of the state in accordance with law and is not an interference with the constitutional duties of the secretary of state. The attackers of the law allege that it seeks to take away from constitutional officers the power of appointment of assistants and clerks, but the commission re-

APRIL WAS FAIR MONTH, AC-

Average Temperature Was 52.1.

—Last Year, 50.6.

Complaints regarding the low tem-showers were heard on all sides during the month of April. There is no doubt that rain was wanted and needed, but the record of temperatures shows that the average for the month was above the average of April, 1905.

The two months can best be compared in a table, showing the high,

low and general averages respectively:

1906. 1905.

March, it will be remembered, was exceedingly cold, and consequently there was a considerable rise in temperatures during April. The high average increased 24.8; the low average

19.3; and the general average, 21.6.

Last year the respective increases were but 9.4, 6.6 and 7.3.

There were showers or rain on but four days and the sky was overcast on but an equal number. Hence, twenty-two of the days are recorded as fair, pleasant or beautiful.

ARC LIGHT BUGS
CARRY DISEASE?

Big Insects Live On Slime And Very

Likely Are Enemy Of Public Health.

Beware of those big black bugs that fit about arc lights at night.

They carry disease. Very likely tuberculosis. Such is the admonition and belief of Building Inspector

Koch of Milwaukee and he will bring the matter to the attention of the tuberculosis convention. He says these "electric light bugs," which often grow three inches in length and are very numerous during the summer months, are tuberculosis disseminating agents. He has discovered that they live in drains and man holes in the vicinity of arc lights and their food appears to consist chiefly of slime. When they fly out at night they spread disease, he declares.

FIFTEEN DAMS FROM

Rock River Navigation And Improvement Company Seek Incorporation Papers.

Forty years ago there was on foot

what was known as "The Rock River Improvement Movement." The purpose was to dredge the shallow portions of the stream and construct a canal from a point near the source to Lake Horicon, thus connecting the Mississippi river and Lake Michigan.

Then it was imagined that the river could, at little expense, be made navigable. A few years later the stream was declared un navigable and many dams were built across it. Now a company, bearing a name similar to the old movement—Rock River Navigation and Improvement company—has succeeded in having introduced in congress a bill to grant them incorporation papers and permit them to construct fifteen dams between here and Sterling, Ill. The company will have headquarters in Sterling and their purpose is to develop an enormous horse power and also to build reservoirs for storage of water to be used during the season when the river is low.

A store cannot convince its patrons that it is prospering by reducing its advertising appropriation—not more than your neighbor can convince you that he has moved into a smaller house because he is making so much more money than usual!

Father Gapon is now reported to be officially dead.

Janesville had no May first labor troubles this year.

Mount Hecla in Ireland has also joined in the volcanic festivities.

That French revolution scheduled for Tuesday failed to materialize.

Iowa politicians are enjoying a red hot campaign this year.

If Kansas really wants an unkissed Governor, Dowle's son might do.

The Czar has accepted M. Witte's resignation and that ends Witte.

Clean streets will do more to boost Janesville than a half-dozen private boosters.

It is only May third. There is plenty of time for summer to arrive yet.

Doubtless Europe is shocked at some of the lawless acts that happen in the United States.

The Chicago City Hall is going to ruin as fast as it can and still the city does not build a new one.

Janesville needs a new fire station built upon economical basis with extra fixings that cost extra money.

It is not a question of "Do we want a new fire station?" It is, can we get along without one and save money.

Milwaukee appears to have a distinct understanding as to what to do with crooked bankers and bank employees.

That new home looks all right today but tomorrow or next day you may find out why the old tenants move out.

Joe Cannon is being tickled with the presidential bee but it is too cold for the bee to sting him as yet so he is safe.

La Follette it is reported is to come back to Wisconsin and speak in every county against Davidson and for Lenroot.

Russia has not yet passed the crisis of its existence as long as the Duma has not yet been actually tried.

If Janesville built a new fire station one room could be put aside for emergency accident cases. How's that for an idea?

Chicago has cleared out its old Levee district. That was the best first of May move made and recorded this year.

Maybe the Senate will agree on a rate bill soon. It is to be hoped that the three days speeches will not have been in vain.

Stuart of Kenosha who ran for congress against Cooper last election does not know when he has had enough and again seeks renomination for another beating by Jeffris.

There is no doubt that others beside Hobson, Carnegie and Hoch may find the kiss is not as pleasant a year afterwards as it was at first.

The council has begun spending money for street improvements without apparently any restraint upon the purses of the property holders.

Lenroot is making a state machine of his own. Davidson appears to have the backing of Connor and Lenroot of La Follette. The result is in doubt.

ADAM SMITH'S VIEW.

President Roosevelt has been criticized by some of the leading financial men of the country, for his attitude toward the corporations. They have alleged that he was doing much more harm than good and even compared his work to being more destructive to the United States than was the San Francisco earthquake. It would be interesting to know what the greatest economists of the world say of this subject and Adam Smith's opinion as found in his "Wealth of Nations," is as follows:

"The member of parliament who supports every proposition for strengthening monopoly is sure to acquire great reputation for understanding trade, and also great popularity and influence with an order of men whose numbers and wealth render them of great importance. If he opposes, on the contrary, and still more, if he have authority enough to thwart them, neither the most acknowledged probity, nor the highest rank, nor the greatest public service, can protect him from the most infamous abuse and detraction, from personal insults, nor sometimes from real danger arising from the influence of furious and disappointed monopolists."

POLITICAL READJUSTMENT

In a recent issue of the Wall Street Journal, the leading financial paper of America the question of a political adjustment is discussed. The decline of political partisanship in the country has long been noted. While it is admitted that an excess of partisanship leads to political evils, yet it is held that the opposite extreme is equally dangerous. The argument is that government in this country must be carried on by means of political parties, and that it is altogether for the general good that citizens should attach themselves to one or the other of the leading parties and strive to perform their political duties through these parties. As a matter of fact, however, there is a growing independence of party lines and men are feeling less and less the sense of party obligation.

Is not this due to the fact that this is a transition period in the history of the two great American parties? May it not be said that party lines are reforming and that while the old names, Democratic and Republican, continue to be used, and may continue to be used, the parties themselves are changing and that thousands of voters are confronted with the question of abandoning names in order to preserve political principles?

Both the Democratic and the Republican parties are split into two or three great factions, and it is a question how long these factions can be held together by the mere power of historic names. There is so much difference between the conservative and the radical wings of the Democratic party that it seems impossible for the two to unite on any common policy that will enable them to achieve success at the polls. If the radical wing nominates the candidate and dictates the platform, hundreds of thousands of conservatives remain away from the polls on election day or vote the Republican ticket. If the conservative wing nominates the candidate and dictates the platform, hundreds of thousands of radicals remain away from the polls on election day. There are signs of a similar split in the Republican party. The conservative and radical wings of that party are confronting each other today with such antagonism as to make it questionable how long they can remain together under a common name. There is as much difference between the republicanism of Aldrich and the republicanism of Roosevelt as there is between the democracy of Parker and the democracy of Bryan. There is as much division of sentiment in the Republican party in the question of the governmental attitude toward the corporations as there is in the Democratic party, and there are unmistakable signs of a radical difference of Republican opinion in regard to the readjustment of the tariff.

It is evident, therefore, that a period of political transformation is at hand and unless some new party should arrive, the tendency will be for the conservative in the two parties to group themselves together under the name of the one or the other of the present great parties while the radicals take the name and the organization of the other party.

Give Hobson A Fair Show!

Chicago Tribune: Lieut. Unexpected Connection.

Exchange: An Omaha dispatch says: "Miss Anna Helsing, one of a driving party of four, was singing the Halleluiah, Give Me Heaven, when a freight train crashed into the carriage. Miss Helsing was killed instantly, but her three companions escaped serious injury." It is to be hoped that she got her connection.

Immigrants Needed.

Baltimore News: In reading of the tens of thousands of immigrants pouring almost daily into the country one should bear in mind that the demand for labor is also great and intense. It is estimated that at least 200,000 laborers are urgently needed now in Texas. But the trouble with immigration is that so much of it goes into cities where it is not wanted and so little of it into the country where it is wanted.

Spooner and Bailey.

Chicago Chronicle: They are still debating in Washington as to whether Senator Bailey of Texas put Senator Spooner of Wisconsin to rest with his speech on the rate bill. "Oh, yes," said a republican congressman, "Bailey had the best of it—same as the fellow who had a row with the hackman. He was telling about it when his friends saw him in the hospital. 'What happened?' they asked. 'Why,' said the man, 'I called the hackman down.' 'Yes?' 'And he came down, groaning the injured man.'"

Jokes Seen Nowadays.

Exchange: Professor Brander Mathews thinks theatrical audiences see jokes more quickly than they used to and that this proud and happy progress in risibility has come about "because the stage of today is so well lighted that all the spectators can follow the changing expressions on the countenances of the quarrelling couple, whereas in the eighteenth century the theatre was almost gloomy, as there were only sparse oil lamps to serve as footlights, by which it may have been difficult to see a joke."

Scrapbook Mother Did Not Make.

Albion, (Kan.) Globe: One of the wonderful things about every home is the scrapbook mother never makes. For years she clips out poetry, recipes for cooking, for riding a house of moths, for increasing interest in the young in church work, for taking ink spots out of clothes, etc. She boards them carefully away, intending to some day mix up a little flour paste and put them in a book. But she is always busy and the flour paste is never mixed, or if it is the children get at it and use it up before she finds time.

Trust In Medicine Shaken.

Exchange: The venerable Professor Alexander Stephens, M. D., of the New York College of Physicians and Surgeons said in a recent lecture to his medical class: "The old physicians grow the more skeptical of medicine and the more they are disposed to trust to the powers of nature. Notwithstanding all our boasted improvements, patients suffer as much as they did forty years ago. The reason medicine has advanced so slowly is because physicians have studied the writings of the predecessors instead of nature."

Not So Darned Funny.

Chicago Inter Ocean: Colonel Armo Knox of Texas Sittings and border ranger fame, was the first manager of the daily newspaper that ex-Governor Douglas established in Brockton. Just before the paper was launched Mr. Douglas introduced the Colonel to the Democrats of Brockton at a banquet. Colonel Knox made a little speech, in which he said that he would furnish the brains for the paper, while Mr. Douglas would furnish the money. Then he told a very good story, thus:

Old Uncle Dave went from a little village to Boston to hear Mark Twain lecture at Music hall. By mistake he got into Tremont temple and heard a discourse by the Rev. Joseph Cook. When he got home and was seated in the grocery store among his cronies one of them asked: "Well, Uncle Dave, was that there Mark Twain funny?"

"Why, yes," drawled the old man, "he were funny but," musingly, "he weren't so darned funny."

A New Industrial Town.

Chicago News: The plans now on foot for the creation of the proposed new city on the Indiana shore of Lake Michigan, a few miles east of the Illinois boundary line, contemplate one of the most interesting experiments yet undertaken in the way of city building. There appears to be no limit to the number of novel industrial, political, social and economic problems which may arise in the making and maintenance of this remarkable municipality.

Gary, as the new town is to be called, is at present a 6,000-acre tract of practically vacant land. The newly organized Indiana Steel company, which has bought this land and is to establish there the largest steel mills in the world, already feels justified in calling Gary "the second city in the state." The corporation has begun clearing ground for the erection of its plant and for the homes, schools, churches, libraries, and public buildings necessary to a community of 15,000 workmen, numbering, with the workmen's families, a population of about 100,000.

Ordinarily a city is a growth, the resultant of many forces operating in pursuance of different aims. Gary will be made to order from the ground up, with one primary aim in view. The lives of most of the members of the community will be devoted to one thing—the steel business. Employed by the steel trust and living in a town built and largely controlled by it, they will be also, citizens, landowners and taxpayers, electing their own municipal government. The development of the new town with its interesting complication of political and industrial problems will be worth watching by students of government as well as by sociologists and economists.

SECURE STEWARD AT GOLF CLUB HOUSE

Richard Warrington of Beloit is to Handle the Cuisine This Summer.

The Golf club has engaged Richard Warrington of Beloit as steward for the coming season. Mr. Warrington has had extensive experience and comes highly recommended. All that is needed to make a successful season at the clubhouse is a liberal patronage by members. It is planned to have a ladies' day each week in addition to the regular club day, when card games, putting matches and golf can be enjoyed by the ladies, with prizes to add to the interest. The new steward will serve dainty lunches and it is hoped that ladies' day will prove to be a popular institution. As only golf club members whose dues are paid are eligible for competition in games arranged, all ladies who intend becoming members are urged to present their names at once. The dues of all members are also due and should be paid at the Merchants and Mechanics' bank at once.

IMPORTANT QUESTION ON THE INDIAN PROBLEM IN COURT.

A QUESTION AS TO FUNDS

United States District Attorney W. G. Wheeler Represents the Government.

An interesting case comes before the state supreme court on Wednesday next, which will have an important bearing upon the recent debate in congress, in which the two United States Senators from Wisconsin took opposite sides, in relation to the Indian problem. The case in question is that of W. H. Tompkins of Ashland versus Major S. W. Campbell, the Indian agent at the La Pointe agency, also at Ashland. The points at issue are whether the rights of citizenship conferred upon all allotment Indians in the United States by the Dawes act also give the Indian the right to control the money belonging to him but held by the Indian agent for distribution.

Wards of Government
Senator La Follette urged that the money held by the Indian agent in trust for the Indians be distributed to them at once by an act of congress. W. H. Tompkins, in his suit against the Indian commissioner, holds the ground that an act of congress is not necessary and that the Indian is receiving his rights of citizenship and also all funds held in trust for him as per the treaty of 1854. The Indian has always been considered as a ward of the Government. Article 3 of the treaty of the United States with the Chippewa Indians makes special provision for the allotment of lands to the heads of the families, but stipulates that the money which may come from sale of timber rights on other methods shall be held in the hands of the Indian agent and deposited by him in National banks where it shall be distributed to the Indian only upon permission of the President of the United States and signed by the Indian agent. In other words, the treaty makes the Indians wards of the government.

Suit a Test
The present suit is a test case of the construction of the law. The plaintiff, W. H. Tompkins, is a prominent attorney in Ashland, who has been retained by the Indians to bring this suit to establish their right to money held by the Indian agent, claiming this as their right under the Dawes act, which made special provisions of citizenship for all Indians holding allotments who were born in the United States. United States District Attorney W. G. Wheeler is defending the suit in behalf of the Government and the decision will have an important bearing upon all future dealings with the Indians throughout the United States.

Funds Safe
There is no question in the suit as to the safety of the funds held, but is brought to establish the ownership in fee simple of all property allotted to the Indian in question with no restrictions from the United States government. In many instances on matters of similar nature the courts have held that the Indian is the ward of the nation and while they may hold land and exert the rights of citizenship the old provisions regarding the handling of funds and other provisions of the early treaty also hold good. In all the Indian agent at Ashland has in the neighborhood of $75,000 which belongs to the Indians and would be distributed under a decision favoring the Indians in this case.

MR. AND MRS. F. W. ELLIS TO MONTANA

Preparing To Move Within Next Month Or Two—Mr. Ellis With North Western Road 25 Years.

Friend W. Ellis, one of the veteran employees of the Chicago & North Western road has secured a six months' leave of absence and plans to move with his wife to Montana. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have disposed of their home on Center avenue to Chas. Hudson and expect to leave within a month or two. They will go to Livingston by train and then thirty-seven miles beyond to the vicinity of Shields in Park county, where their son, Victor Ellis and his wife, Mrs. Ellis' brother, Grant J. Valleur and family and other relatives reside. Mrs. Ellis visited in Montana all last summer and her health was so much benefited by the climate that it is for this reason they are moving now. Though the large ranches prevent thick population in this part of the country and the town of Shields is thirty-seven miles from a railroad station the residents expect to have free mail delivery within the next few months. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis have many friends here who will regret to have them go. Mr. Ellis entered the employ of the North Western road twenty-five years ago. He then lived at Milton Junction and worked in the bridge and building department. Seven years later he was given the shop work here and has since held the position, bearing the name of foreman of bridge and building. His leave of absence is for six months but may be extended at his request and he has been assured that his place here will always be open for him.

He eats scarcely anything and it is believed that he has not slept since his confinement. Carlson had been looking after the Eagles' lodge rooms. He came here from Chicago.

OBITUARY.

Wilbur F. Austin
The spirit of Wilbur F. Austin passed from earthly toil to heavenly rest yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. On Monday he seemed to be doing very well and confident hope of his recovery was entertained by the family and physicians. For three weeks he has struggled with the dread and insidious pneumonia. He made a brave fight for life, but was possessed with a feeling from the first that he could not rise above the attack. He was a quiet and useful citizen, a man of strong Christian character and unquestioned integrity. Everybody had confidence in his honesty, for he was upright in all his dealings. He united with the Methodist Episcopal church when he was seventeen years of age and has devoted his time and money to the institution. He was never ashamed of his profession, anywhere on every suitable occasion he made it known that he was a Christian. His home life was beautiful and his rich experience was ever evident from his conversation. He looked upon the future life as the culmination of the work which God had begun and carried forward in him. He has been a resident of Rock county all his life, being born in Central July 4th, 1856. He died at his home where he lived. He leaves a wife and nine children, all of whom are living; also one sister, Mrs. Carrie Ivey of Ballard, Washington. The funeral will be held from his late residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. J. H. Tippet officiating.

Mrs. Hannah Plantz
Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Hannah Plantz, wife of L. C. Plantz, were held this afternoon at half-past three o'clock from the home on Pearl street. Rev. C. J. Koerner officiating. The pallbearers were Theodore Zerbel, Fred Bergendahl, Charles Lagerman and Albert Hanker. The remains were shipped to Milwaukee at 4:50 o'clock and will be taken to 321 Thirty-third street, where services will be held tomorrow afternoon. The burial will be in the cemetery at West Grandville.

Mrs. Michael Finley
Mrs. Michael Finley, an old resident of the town of Rock, quietly breathed her last at the home of her son, W. L. Finley, at seven o'clock last evening. She was eighty years of age and the infirmities incident to her advanced years were responsible for her demise. The children, all of whom were at her bedside, are: Mrs. John Q. Timmons and William L. James of the town of Rock, Mrs. John Lyons of Center, Mrs. Hugh McGavock of Beloit, Richard P. Finley, Mrs. Mary A. George, and Mrs. John Drew of this city.

Mrs. Sarah Taylor.
All that is mortal of the late Mrs. Sarah Taylor was tenderly laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held from the home, 55 North Bluff street, at two o'clock. Rev. R. C. Denison officiating. The pallbearers were Philip Castigan, Charles Kemmerer, Orville Morse and C. Rose.

"DEWEY," PET OF CO. A, IN THE SPANISH WAR, PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY

Was a Dog of Unusual Intelligence and a Kind Disposition—Never Learned to Like Firearms.
"Dewey," the old canine pet that accompanied Company "A" (Janesville) of the First Regiment to the south during the Spanish war, was mercifully put to death by chloroform yesterday. He was partially blind and so old and decrepit that life, even with the best of care, was a struggle for him. The dog was part Newfoundland and part St. Bernard. He was a puppy only a few months old when he was presented by a farmer to the company, at that time in Milwaukee. After the regiment returned from Jacksonville, Frank Reynolds became the owner and the animal has been on familiar terms with the residents of South Jackson street for the past three years. Though "Dewey" was something of a fighter in his early days and lost the use of one eye in a serious engagement with another of his kind, he was never known to bite a human being. In his military experience he never became used to the sound of a gun and up to the last day of his life the sight of a firearm was always sufficient to cause him to beat a hasty retreat.

Recruits For Major Leagues

Troubles of New Men Lead Managers to Be Wary of Them -- Few Last Long In Fast Company. Ferguson a Promising Pitcher.

New men on the various major league teams are evidently of a higher class than heretofore has been the case. At any rate, opinions of managers of many teams indicate that their recruits are counted on to greatly strengthen the pennant prospects of the clubs. As a general rule, managers place but little dependence on men new to big league company. The tendency of these "fresh fish" to do well in four or five games at the start of a season and then "blow up," leaving the brunt of the labor to be borne by the tried and true veterans, has taught team directors to be very wary.

Last year so many recruits from colleges and minor leagues failed to show expected form in both American and National clubs that one was not blamed for believing that the breed of American ball players was actually disappearing. Cincinnati dropped no less than eight men that started the season with the team. Brooklyn parted with almost as many, and both big Chicago teams sent half a dozen candidates back to the hayfields.

Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals has three men who, he states, should do well in fast company. Now, McGraw talks very little about his players, and when he praises a man there is something behind his words. These men are Hank Mathewson, a pitcher, who is a brother of Christy Mathewson; Cecil Ferguson, another twirler, and Fitzgerald, a catcher. "Fitzgerald is a second Roger Bresnahan," says McGraw.

Ferguson made a big reputation for himself with the Louisville club in the American association. He is just the right size and build for a pitcher, and old time ball players say he reminds them of Jack Powell when he broke into fast company. "Fergy," as his team mates call him, did great work for the Louisville club, and when the fans there found out that he would be with them this season they "kicked."

From what the big fellows showed in the south and in the exhibition games it looks as if he will make good in the big league. McGraw, with Matty and McGinnity, are teaching him a few things about the pitching game.

LEO HAFORD.

that he does not know, and it looks as if he has improved a whole lot in the short time that he has been with the team.

Although he is not much on sensational curves, his speed is great. His control is not bad. All pitchers that break into the big league from the minors generally have what they call the bean ball, which means that they shoot them at your head; "wood," as the baseball players call it, and it takes some time before they get out of that habit.

Ferguson is not a bean ball pitcher. He demonstrated to McGraw that he was a slicker and picked up every little thing he did not know in the big league. He uses a high fast ball, and it is fast. McGraw may not use him much, and he may. With a year's experience in the big league he will be a real pitcher.

Another promising pitching recruit is Leo Hafford of the Cincinnati Reds. Hafford has the confidence of Hanlon's team and has a cool head. He usually manages to squeeze out of tight places safely.

How About This?

A rumor that no one will father is abroad that the Intercollegiate Athletic association is seriously considering a meet this year between the east and west in track athletics. The date of June 9 is assigned for this year's games, which, rumor says, will alternate annually from east to west.

Gates and Drake.

John W. Gates and John A. Drake, two Chicago turfmen, are now talking about as the real owners of the Salem (N. H.) race track which is in course of construction. Their interest in the ownership has been denied, however, by Andrew Miller, president of the New England Breeders' club.

M'Graw Confident. American League Managers Fears Only the Chicago Team.

"Better baseball will be played against the New York National league team this summer than last by the other sides of the organization. Do I think that the Giants can play better to beat it? Yes. Possibly--and this with a twinkle in the speaker's eye--"they could beat it if they played as well as they did last year."

That was Manager John J. McGraw's answer at the New York Polo grounds recently as to his opinion of the National league race in 1906.

Continuing his conversation, he said: "Please understand correctly my statement regarding 'better baseball.' Not that the National league teams of 1906 did not do their very best to beat us, for at all times they were straining every energy to win, while we were trying not to overlook a point in their attack, but that the National league teams, as a whole, have been strengthened, according to the best judgment of their owners, at points where they felt they were weak."

"Before the summer is over we shall have abundant opportunity to see whether they have succeeded. If they beat us and beat us fairly we shall admit it gracefully and let all credit be due to the team that turns us on our backs."

"What National league nine, in your opinion, and judging on present form, seems likely to give the Giants the hardest and most persistent fight of the year for the championship?"

"If all the ability of the Chicago team to play ball is brought to the surface and if the players of the club are not hampered by accident or incapacitated by illness, I look to see that blue make a determined fight to capture the pennant. There is strength in Chicago this year. A careful estimate of the worth of the men who have been signed to represent the western metropolis demonstrates the fact conclusively. Pittsburgh may play as well as last year, but present indications point to a little hard luck for Fred Clarke even before the season begins. He may lose Beaumont, whose knee seems likely not to mend so that he can play successfully, and it is still to be determined whether the experiment at first base will work advantageously."

"It is never an easy matter to construct an infield and sometimes a hard task to reconstruct one. Philadelphia will hit some and be always ready to step into the lead in a game if any team gives the Quakers the slightest chance. Cincinnati will probably play ball with more uniformity, but Hanlon has some experiments to bother him."

MANAGER JOHN J. MCGRAW.

and there is an element of uncertainty about them. The other three teams, Boston, Brooklyn and St. Louis, have tried to strengthen. The measure of what they have done will be better told when we see what they possess in the ball playing line.

"Do you think the Giants will win the championship for the third time?"

"I do, and if they do not, if I am disappointed, if they are disappointed and if the New York baseball public is disappointed, it will not be for the reason that the players have not put forth every honest effort of which they are capable. To a man they are as enthusiastic, as united, as eager to be three time pennant winners, as they were to capture the highest honor in 1904, when they won a league championship for the first time. And, more than that, they are just as eager to be in the thick of another world's championship struggle, and if they should be so favored, as to succeed in winning that pennant two years in succession, mark my words, they will be just as greedy to capture a world's flag for the third time."

"Are the players in good condition?"

"To a man. There may be a little soreness here and there, but it is nothing permanent. For the most part the players' arms have been worked into proper trim through persistent efforts in the south. The men will not use them with undue risk until the weather has become permanently warm, but there is not a 'dead arm' on the team. We have got a corps of pitchers which is enough to cause any baseball enthusiast to gloat. With Mathewson, McGinnity, Ames, Wiltse, Taylor and Ferguson, it is my opinion to team ever has been better equipped in the history of the game. Ferguson looks well and acts well. He will do to retain."

"The infield is the same fast, intelligent, quick thinking infield that it was last year. The outfielders are as speedy, as accurate and as good base runners as they were last year. Behind the bat, if anything, the team is better than it was last year."

PENNSYLVANIA BANK CLOSED BY EXAMINER

National and State Officials Join to Shut Up Institutions Under One Control.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 3.—At the instance of the comptroller of the currency, National Bank Examiner John B. Cunningham Wednesday closed the Delmont National bank at Delmont, Westmoreland county, Pa., of which James McQuaide, of this city, is president, and almost at the same time the attorney general's department at Harrisburg made application to the Dauphin county court for a receiver for the Monongahela Valley bank of Duquesne, which is alleged to be insolvent. Mr. McQuaide is vice president of the Monongahela bank, and also has been conducting a chain of amusement enterprises about the country, which consist mainly of merry-go-rounds.

He made an assignment recently for the benefit of his creditors with the Mercantile Trust company of this city, as assignee. The Delmont bank has a capital stock of $25,000 and deposits of about $75,000. The Monongahela Valley bank had a capital stock of $50,000.

The only cause assigned for the action of the comptroller of the currency is that Mr. McQuaide is absent from the city.

The application for a receiver for the Monongahela Valley bank was made following a visit made there by Attorney Geo. M. Hosack, the application to the Dauphin county court bearing the request that Mr. Hosack be made receiver. The application was made by Guy P. Davies, of the attorney general's department.

New York, May 3.—John P. He was discharged in order that his books might be examined without exciting undue suspicion. Meanwhile, detectives watched him. Brosseau had been in the employ of Tiffany & Co. for 35 years. The police said he admitted that he had stolen from the firm.

RECOUP FIRE LOSSES BY ADVANCE IN RATES

Insurance Companies Propose to Levy Tribute by Increasing Premiums 25 Per Cent.

New York, May 3.—The fire insurance companies will levy a tax on the property of the whole country to recoup their losses in San Francisco. A horizontal advance of 25 per cent. on all fire risks will be made. The increase may go above 25 per cent.

The San Francisco disaster caused a loss to the insurance companies of at least $150,000,000—perhaps $175,000,000. With possibly a few exceptions the insurance companies of the United States and Great Britain have reserves sufficiently large to pay the losses. These reserves were accumulated out of profits already made from policyholders.

In spite of this fact, the insurance managers in secret session in this city are planning to increase rates to the whole country, thus making the people pay the losses for which the people already had provided a surplus.

DOWIE IS SAID TO BE DYING

Followers Offer Prayers for His Restoration to Health.

Chicago, May 3.—John Alexander Dowie, deposed leader of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church, is said to be near death. In his room at Shiloh house, Zion City, he is surrounded by a few of "the faithful." Special prayers for the healing of the "first apostle" have been substituted for the usual daily business programme in some quarters. Friends and attendants of Dowie deny that his mental or physical condition has caused them to halt in their fight for control of Zion City, but it is known by those who are in close touch with the deposed prophet that his death is a matter of only a short time.

Gladstone Dowie said: "My father does not improve in health. I don't think he will ever recover."

The Prohibition Theory on Beers

Has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The great scientists of all Nations after careful analysis declare that beer brewed from pure barley malt and hops contains only 3 1/4 per cent of alcohol or just enough to mildly stimulate the body and promote healthy digestion. Dr. Bauer, the German analyst (whose fame is international) says "Beer has a number of pleasant and valuable qualities. No other beverage contains such a combination of useful properties. The water of it quenches the thirst; the carbonic acid refreshes, the extracts are nutritious, the alcohol furthers digestion, the mineral salts build up the bones and extracts of hops act as a tonic."

Too Much of a Good Thing.

The following truthful remark is from a book by Dr. A. Rahaghiati, of England, reviewed last year: "Disease is far oftener due to mal-assimilation of food than to any other cause. And too much good food is a far commoner cause of disease than either deficiency or badness of food."

Pabst Beer

A Clean Food

Purity and cleanness are essential for healthful beer, just as they are essential for any other healthful food. And purity and cleanness are watchwords in the great Pabst brewery at Milwaukee. Only the finest of malt and hops are used. • A most important feature of the Pabst brewing process is the Pabst method of making malt. It requires eight days and doubles the expense of the old four-day method, still used in many breweries, but the eight-day Pabst process is the only process by which perfect malt can be made.

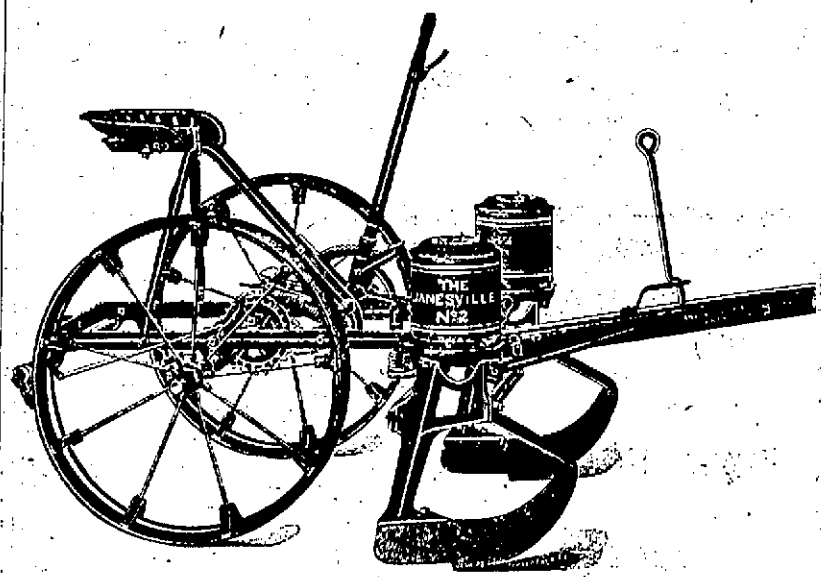

Next in importance to eight-day malt is cleanness, and we might very well say just as important, for not only is cleanness desirable but necessary in brewing the best beer. And in this again Pabst excels; not only is the mammoth Pabst brewery a model of neatness in every department, but the beer from mash tub to keg or bottle is never touched by human hands. It passes through sterilized tubes and pipes into hermetically sealed sterilized tanks, and every known safeguard is established to prevent any possible contamination.

The ingredients of Pabst Beer are the purest and best money can buy, and it is given to the public only when science and the test of time show it to be perfect in age, purity and strength; the best beer brewed.

BOND SCHEME NOT IN FAVOR

Proposition of Senator Newlands Fails to Appeal to Representatives of Coast State, Who Were Not Consulted.

Washington May 3.—The proposal that congress assist the citizens of San Francisco in raising $200,000,000 which to rebuild the city destroyed by earthquake and fire was made in the senate Wednesday, only to be received by the protests of the California senators.

Senator Newlands of Nevada advanced the proposition in the shape of a joint resolution asking the finance committee of the senate and the ways and means committee of the house to report on the feasibility of the government guaranteeing bonds to aid in the rehabilitation of San Francisco.

Senator Flint of California deprecated the introduction of the resolution at this time as unwise and said that the California delegation should have been consulted.

"The California delegation," he added, "hope soon to have a plan of their own for seeking relief from the government. We are asking many things from the national government," he said, "and are not so much concerned whether the millionaires shall have aid in restoring their steel blocks as that we shall receive assistance for the people who are asking bread and meat."

No Danger of Depression.

San Francisco May 3.—An investigation made Wednesday demonstrated that the fear that San Francisco will suffer a period of hard times as an aftermath of the disastrous fire is unfounded. Careful estimate made by authorities competent to speak, show that within the next year there will be over $200,000,000 available for the rehabilitation of San Francisco.

The following figures made clear where this sum is to originate:

Investment of new Geary street municipal road, $340,000; Home Telephone company expenditures, $1,000,000; insurance losses now due and payable (approximately), $175,000,000; United railroads' new constructions, $9,000,000; city bonds of 1904, sum still available, $17,000,000; Ocean Shore railway, approximately expenditures here, $1,000,000; restoration of Pacific States Telephone company, $1,000,000; restoration of government buildings, $770,000; building of sea wall, $2,000,000. Total, $207,110,000.

It is expected that a large part of this money will come from eastern and foreign capitalists. In figuring the two hundred and odd million which will be available, the investigators did not take into consideration the sums that may be raised for the beautification and improvement of the city.

Location of Chinatown.

The vexatious problem of locating the new Chinatown will probably be settled to the satisfaction of the Chinese colony.

It is not the desire of the municipality to harass this portion of its foreign population and the desires of the diplomatic representatives of China will be considered. At a meeting of Chinese diplomats and a representative of the general committee such understanding was reached.

The two weeks that have elapsed since the day of the earthquake have witnessed a transformation from chaos to regular order. The unburned section has been nearly restored to its normal condition, and when housewives are permitted to return to their kitchens to cook, after the required inspection of chimneys, the streets will have their old-time appearance.

At 10:02 Tuesday night there was another earthquake shock. It was slightly felt in San Francisco, but down the peninsula as far as Palo Alto the shock was very severe. No damage has been reported.
